Fatal crash takes lives of father and son

A Go-Fund-Me account has been established to help the survivors of a horrific car crash that occurred last weekend, claiming the lives of a Plymouth father, his youngest son and critically injuring his wife.

According to the latest posted information, Dan and Anna Hordov of Plymouth and their two children, were returning from a Grand Rapids soccer tournament on Sunday, Aug. 18 when the accident occurred.

According to multiple reports, Hordov and his son, Wyatt, succumbed to their injuries while his wife, Anna, sustained a serious spinal injury and remains hospitalized. Their oldest son, Zachary, has been released from the hospital after being treated for minor injuries. He is reportedly with family members.

Zachary is a member of the Plymouth Reign Soccer Club which regularly plays at Edward Hines Parkway, the fields of Robert Bosch and Lake Pointe Soccer Park.

The Hordov family was well-known throughout the community. Anna Hordov remains hospitalized following the death of her husband and son.

Dan Hordov, 44, was a member of the Plymouth Noon Rotary Club where he led the Interact program at the high school campus. He was employed as an insurance agent- broker with the Kennedy Nemier Insurance Agency of Plymouth. Members of the Rotary Club have expressed their shock and sorrow at the incident, noting what an active member of the club Mr. Hordov had been and how well regarded he was. Rotary Club members have pledged to aid the family as soon as more details are available.

Currently, donations are being collected for the family at a Go-Fund-Me account under the family name.

Monday morning more than $96,000 had been donated to help the family.

68th Annual Plymouth Fall Festival to begin next week

The 68 Annual Plymouth Fall Festival will fill the downtown streets with more than 85,000 visitors next weekend, as crowds enjoy free stage entertainment, Bingo, a car show and a craft show on the streets. In addition, the Kiwanis Pancake Breakfast is set for Saturday morning, along with the pet show which includes both a parade and a dog training lesson this year.

The Sept. 6, .7 and 8 festival in Plymouth is an effort to support all local civic and charity groups in the community. Every exhibitor, booth or participant must be there and registered to support a civic or school group.

"It's the one time of year every group comes together and works together to help everyone," said Festival President Andrea Gerber. She noted that the festival had the best year ever last year with increased participation at the carnival and at the booths and shows. "We're hoping to match that this year," she said. "We just need good weather."

"There really is a close-knit core group of prominent people, volunteers, public officials, business leaders and members of service clubs that keep this festival going," Gerber said. She added that many civic leaders and officials can be found quietly volunteering at various jobs throughout the festival events. "You never know who you might see," she added.

The Plymouth Canton Vietnam Veterans will be grilling spareribs Friday afternoon and the Plymouth-Canton Little League sponsors the popular Bingo event on Friday evening. On Saturday, the morning Rotary Club members serve their renowned Spaghetti Dinner and of course, the Rotary Club Chicken Barbeque takes over Kellogg Park most of the day on Sunday.

This year, according to Barbeque President Eric Joy, the club will prepare more than 8,500 chicken dinners, grilled on the huge charcoal pits the club members construct the night before in the parking lot behind The Gathering on Penn Avenue.

To accomplish the effort, more than 700 volunteers man the pits which are lit as early at 7 a.m. When the coals are "just right" the seasoned chickens are on the grills until perfect, then boxed along with chips, an ear of corn, a bottle of water, a roll and butter and a cookie. The menu hasn't changed for many years, and crowds continue to fill the park all afternoon picnicking, although the drive-through take out location at West Middle School is almost as popular, Joy said.

Westland man charged with murder in stabbing

A local man is facing murder charges in the stabbing death of a Westland resident Aug. 18.

Police arrested Richard Waltiere, Jr., 48, also of Westland at about 4 a.m. Aug. 19 after an investigation of the incident. Westland police officers were called to the area of Grand Traverse and Missaukee Court at about 8 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 18 following a report of a man down.

When officers arrived on the scene, they found 58-year-old Donald Soulliere of Westland lying on the ground unconscious but breathing, according to police reports. Officers determined that Soulliere had been stabbed and immediately began life saving attempts. The Westland Fire Department arrived and transported Soulliere to Beaumont Annapolis Hospital where he eventually succumbed to his injuries.

Westland police began an immediate investigation and were quickly able to establish a suspect's name and description, police reports said. Officers who were actively searching the location for the suspect, Waltiere, were able to locate him and place him under arrest at approximately 4 a.m. a.m. Monday, Aug. 19.

Police said Waltiere was taken into custody without incident. The suspect was arraigned in the 18th District Court Aug. 21 in front of Magistrate David Wiacek on one count of homicide – murder- second degree. Waltiere was issued a bond of $1,000,000 cash or surety and ordered to reappear for his Probable Cause Conference at the 18th District Court on Aug. 29.

Grant to help fund renaming of school mascot

The Plymouth-Canton Community Schools district will receive $145,894.40 from the Native American Heritage Fund to help fund the change of team names and mascot at Canton High School.

The mascot and team names will be changed from the Chiefs to the Cobras. The longstanding Chiefs identity was considered defamatory by some students who advocated a change, approved by members of the school board amidst controversy and complaints from alumni. Canton High School students conducted surveys of potential new names, before a majority of students voted for the Cobras designation in November. Officials said the rebranding initiative is within the district policies.

The Native American Heritage Fund is a Michigan public body that distributes grants to schools, colleges and universities, and local governments to support initiatives to improve curricula and resources related to Native American issues, and mascot or imagery revisions.

In 2018 we started with six R-word (redskins) mascots. After this year, will have zero in Michigan.

Funding from the grant will be used to support the estimated cost of updating uniforms, logos and other paraphernalia related to the mascot rebrand.

"Plymouth-Canton Community Schools is grateful to the Native American Heritage Fund for its generous support as we prepare to launch an exciting new phase for Canton High School that builds toward the future," said Plymouth Canton Community Schools Superintendent Dr. Monica L. Merritt.

The grant was approved by the board members of NAHF along with grants to 10 state entities, the largest award to Plymouth Canton schools.

"Over the past several years, we have helped 15 schools retire and rebrand their mascots," said NAHF chairperson Dori Rios, who is also the tribal council chairperson of the Nottawaseppi Huron band of the Potawatomi. "In 2018 we started with six R-word (redskins) mascots. After this year, will have zero in Michigan."

Legacy Park water tower could help lower water rates

The new Northville Township water tower in Legacy Park is now fully operational and is providing critical data to officials regarding water use in the township.

The data will be used to determine the rate paid to Great Lakes Water Authority (GLWA), the water provider for the community. In addition to redundancy and pressure stability, the 500,000-gallon water tower lowers the water demands during peak-use periods, normally in the morning and evening. Officials said the demand is reduced by filling the water tower at night — or off peak — particularly during the high-demand summer season. It takes approximately five hours to fill the tank.

"By showing GWLA that we did lower our demand during peak-use times, hopefully we can negotiate a better water rate after the proving period is complete," explained Public Services Director Bob Belair.

He explained that following the township irrigation restrictions when using the public water system is an important factor. The extra effort by system users also helps reduce the demands during peak times. Township residents may only water their lawn between midnight to 6 a.m. on odd or even dates, which coordinate with their odd or even number address.

"By watering at night, we all work together to keep our peak usage in check and that will keep water rates from rising more quickly than necessary," Belair said.

The total cost to build the tower was $8 million. Officials said that cost is expected to be recouped within the next five to seven years because of the stabilization of demands and lower wholesale rates.

"This project has been in the planning stages for many years, so it's great to see it operating so well, helping our residents out," Belair said.

The Party Tent behind E.G. Nick's restaurant on Forest Avenue is the site of both the Rotary Spaghetti Dinner and the Vietnam Veterans barbeque spareribs. After those event, the popular tent hosts live music from popular bands along with beer and wine service. In addition, Chef Frank Agostini from the restaurant, advises both groups and, as a long-time Rotary Club member, helps oversee the chicken barbeque.

"We started doing the tent as a way to add something to the festival, to have fun. It has now grown to add the veterans and the Rotary spaghetti. We donate the space to the groups as a way to give back to the community," Agostini said. "We do it because it is fun, everybody has a great time and it's a way to help out so many people," Agostini said.

His sentiments were echoed by James Gietzen of JAG entertainment who produces the event and works with the charity groups to help plan the event. "This is one of my favorites," Gietzen said. "It really is an event that helps the entire community."

Brews, Brats and Bands will move to Heritage Park this year

Only the location of the annual Brews, Brats, and Bands will change this year while the popular features will remain the same.

The event, is set for 6 until 9 p.m. Sept. 14 at the new location in the Heritage Park amphitheater, located behind the Canton Administration Building. This year, Brews, Brats, and Bands will be hosted by Canton Leisure Services and the Village Arts Factory. Sponsors are Schoolcraft College, Provision Senior Living Communities and Beerfests.com.

"Any event involving drinking craft beers, eating brats, and listening to music with friends and family is bound to be a good time," said Kevin Ryan, Village Arts Factory program director. "It's important to note that with construction taking place in our usual location of Preservation Park, we are temporarily relocating this popular fall event to Heritage Park, which is the only change to this annual event that will feature over 50 specialty beers, ciders, and seltzers in one location."

Proceeds from the event will benefit the Village Arts Factory, which is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that serves as a nexus for the arts, culture, music, and community engagement, as well as the Canton Cares Fund, which supports the Canton community by providing financial assistance to disaster relief, therapeutic recreation, youth, and senior programs.

Admission includes seven tasting tokens each good for beer, cider, or seltzer tasting samples, as well as two grilled brats with fixings (vegetarian option available), a snack from the pretzel necklace-making station, water, chili cook-off tastings, and a commemorative mug. The brats will be provided by Maraschinos Pub. Musical entertainment will be provided throughout the evening by Atomic Radio, billed as "Detroit's Premier Cover Band."

Tickets are $45 online at Beerfests.com (search Canton, MI) or at the door (cash only). Designated Driver tickets are also available for $15. Pre-purchasing tickets is highly recommended, as there are a limited number of tickets available for purchase onsite at the event. Additional beer-tasting tickets are available on-site for purchase; receive four additional tickets for $5. Limited chairs and tables will be provided, so attendees are encouraged to bring their own folding chairs.
